

Proof of Identity & Residency

You must be a Nevada resident and provide a Nevada street address to obtain any driver's license, instruction permit or ID card. You must also surrender any existing U.S.-issued license or ID card.

First-time applicants are required to provide proof of identity (full legal name and date of birth), name changes(s), Social Security number if one has been issued for you and two documents to prove your address.

All documents must be originals.

Nevada has three sets of requirements for proof of identity, including a "Real ID" license or ID card that meets federal requirements under the Real ID Act of 2005. Real ID compliant cards must have the physical address printed on the card. Standard cards and driver authorization cards may show either the physical or mailing address.

Please review the following lists and choose the type of card that is right for you.

Real ID License or ID

Standard License or ID

Driver Authorization Card

A standard Nevada license does not meet Real ID requirements. It will be marked "NOT FOR FEDERAL OFFICIAL USE."

As of October 1, 2021, these cards will not be accepted as identification for boarding aircraft, entering federal facilities where ID is required or entering nuclear power plants.

Licenses and ID cards will be marked "LIMITED TERM" when immigration documents are used to prove identity.
